

We asked survivors who are living at the FAIR Girls Vida Home to take a moment and listen to the song "Move". After they listened to the song, they felt inspired to create this artwork about how the song made them feel and what FAIR Girls means to them.

Picture Description of the survivor's artwork

1. (Top Box left corner) The day I begged God to show me a way out of the life
2. (Top Box right corner) The day I met someone who specialized in human trafficking traumas and learned people actually care
3. (Third Box Middle) The day I went to the first placement at FAIR Girls that helped me understand it wasn't my fault and finally felt safe
4. (Fourth Box Bottom of Page) I'm happy now zero negative thoughts

The song

The song makes me feel encouraged to not give up and allow my struggles and unfortunate circumstances to hold me back. The song says many times to sail away, move, and to not stop here, there is always a rainbow after rain and one day the clouds will clear from my life and what will left is a bright sun and a big beautiful rainbow. Pain: Trauma of any kind can do a lot to a person but we have to heal and not give anything negative the power to keep up down, stuck, discouraged, and afraid to move on to do something amazing in our lives. I'm guilty of this I tend to block my blessing and doubt myself because I couldn't let go of the past but as of recently I've decided that I'm not going to allow ANYTHING tear me down or stop me from accomplishing what I set out to do in my life. I'm happy I was able to hear this song it was very sweet.

Today on #GivingTuesdayNow, you can help us continue to provide life saving support to survivors of trafficking. Join us as we work together to make a positive impact in the lives of survivors. Please donate at www.fairgirls.org
